

Mag-Tagz: Fun, Interchangeable Jewelry for Kids & Tweens

If your daughter is anything like mine then she's totally into fashion, jewelry, trendy things and everything GIRL. My daughter loves to have different pieces of jewelry to match what she's wearing, or her mood. Ever since she was younger she's always loved to have a lot of jewelry. Now that she's a 'tween' it's a daily thing for her to wear things to match her outfits. Mag Tagz are fun, interchangeable jewelry that any little girl (or not so little girl) will love!

Mag Tagz start with a necklace that has a charm on it. The charm is actually a magnet. It resembles a flower so you can wear the necklace with just the magnet charm alone. When you want to try a different look or match your outfit you just have to attach a different "tag" (or "tagz") to the magnetic piece. Some of the available tagz include peace signs, flowers, smiley faces, animals, insects, crosses and so much more. They have designs to please any girl's tastes.

That great thing about Mag Tagz is that you can change the look of the necklace just by adding a different tag. There is no need to go out and purchase several necklaces or other pieces of jewelry. All you need is the base necklace and some of your daughter's favorite tagz designs and you are all set. My daughter FLIPPED when she first saw the Mag Tagz and could not wait to try it out. She had a blast changing out the different tagz to match what she was wearing each day. Sometimes she even changed tagz more than once a day.

Her friends all asked her where she got the necklace from when she wore it to school. They all wanted to know where they can get a Mag Tagz too. They are very affordable with starter packs starting at $19.99 which includes a necklace and three tagz. Mag Tagz are also CPSIA compliant which means there are no harmful leads in their products. Your child can even design their very own tag and enter it in the Mag Tagz contest which ends on August 18, 2009. The winner will get their design made into a limit edition tag and their name will be engraved on the back of them.

To learn more about Mag Tagz visit them online at www.Mag-Tagz.com.

Reviewed by Baby Kid Contributor Kimberly, She Scribes