

Express Yourself with Mag-tagz

Mag-tagz is a fantastic magnetic changeable necklace. These necklaces have a magnetic base which allows your daughter to change her necklace as fast as she can change her mood. This is an ultimate outlet for expression. The tags can be easily switched or even traded with friends. This necklace never gets boring with limited-editions tagz coming out every few month. Try something new for every mood.

My daughter loves her mag-tagz stretch choker necklace. The elastic choker fits gently and softly around any size child's neck. My daughter often complains about things rubbing, itching, or irritating her, but not about the mag-tagz choker. She said that it was so soft and felt good around her neck.

The mom-inventor created not only the line of children's jewelry, but a way for girls to form interactive friendships. Visit www.mag-tagz.com for games like "Tag, You're It!" and to enter their design contest. Girls can express their creativity by designing a tag and entering it into the contest and then voting on the Mag-tagz blog for their favorite. The winning tag becomes a limited edition tag for sale, and the designer's name is engraved on the back.

Visit www.mag-tagz.com and enter code blogger20 for 20% off any purchase of $20 or more.